

-a word in edgewise;
wise and otherwise

By L. M. WISE

BOUND TO HIT

Perseverance plus sufficient ammunition will enable the poorest marksman to eventually hit the target, or bag the game.

A couple of months ago while philosophizing in this column we advanced the idea that too often a prosecuting attorney in reality was a persecuting attorney—that the strong desire for a conviction record in many instances outweighed the greater consideration of right, justice and circumstances that should alter the aspect of cases.

Occasionally some attorney's friends rise up and take issue with me in no uncertain way, but those particular observations got by without any dissenting kickback. THE COURT SPEAKS

Now comes that world's most august tribunal, the United States Supreme Court, and indulges in similar comment, according to a dispatch appearing in the papers yesterday. In a scathing denunciation of a United States attorney in New York the court declared "that the function of a prosecutor is not to win a case but to see that justice shall be done."

The dispatch further says that the court unhesitatingly found that the prosecutor was guilty of misconduct and "overstepped the bounds of that propriety and fairness which should characterize the conduct of such an officer in the prosecution of a criminal offense."

MENTAL SLANT WRONG

The peculiar thing to me is that a man of such high standing in the law should be so easily misled by a prosecutor's attorney to believe that he earns public commendation for an undeserved and unworthy conviction. Inherent in the American people is a strong and innate desire for fair play, and the man who violates that sense of decency and fairness does not get very far along the road to popularity.

I have seen many cases wherein the prosecutor could have made himself a notable figure by appearing in court and simply saying that the facts and evidence, after thorough investigation, did not warrant the defendant being stigmatized. However, few are wise enough to do it, their vaunting ambitions causing them to become human bloodhounds and the desire for a record dwarfing any other consideration.

DON'T LAST LONG

The tenure of such people, whose selfishness and effort at self-aggrandizement are the motivating considerations, is short-lived and they often wonder why their portion, the answer is not their portion. The answer is that the people have their number and after one term they say "tag, you're it."

LAURA INGALLS FORCED DOWN

ALAMOSA, Colo., April 16.—UP—Laura Ingalls failed today in her attempt to set a transcontinental non-stop record when the fuel lines of her plane became clogged and forced her to land at the municipal airport.

With visibility reduced to zero by the billowing dust clouds, the intrepid woman flyer, who left Union Air Terminal at Burbank, Calif., this morning at 5:10 a. m. brought her low winged monoplane to a landing on the rough field. The plane was not damaged and Miss Ingalls was tired but uninjured.

Miss Ingalls brought her plane into the airport at 4:49 p. m. She circled the field three times before she set the $40,000 Lockheed "Vought" down on the rough, wind-torn landing field.

Services Held At Fox Theater

The second in a series of holy week services was held yesterday at the Fox theater with Dr. Harvey H. Guy well known Christian leader, as the speaker of the day.

W. A. Brown acted as chairman while Rev. A. J. Case read the scripture and offered benediction. Prayer was by Rev. J. Irving Rhoads.

Special music was presented by the choir of the Wesley Methodist church under the direction of J. E. Hill.

THE WEATHER

SAN FRANCISCO BAY REGION—Fair, but with some cloudiness Wednesday; moderate temperature; moderate northwest wind.

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA—Fair Wednesday, but with local rains and snows over the Sierra Nevada; warmer in the interior; fresh northwest wind off the coast.

CLIPPER SHIP WINGS WAY OVER OCEAN

RECORD HERALD

THE MILITANT PAPER OF CONTRA COSTA CO.

VOL. XXVI, NO. 2476.

RICHMOND, CALIFORNIA.

WEDNESDAY MORNING, APRIL 17, 1935.

TELEPHONE 71

PRICE 5c

BLAST WRECKS MARTINEZ S. O. PLANT

LEAGUE WILL SCORE NAZIS ARMS MOVES

GENEVA, April 16.—UP—Adoption by the League of Nations Council of a strongly worded resolution condemning Germany for repudiating military clauses in the Versailles treaty tonight was hailed as assured.

The big powers in Western Europe—Britain, France and Italy—rode rough-shod over indecent opposition of Denmark and Poland, and forced upon the extraordinary session of the Council the resolution on which action will be taken tomorrow.

Its adoption, with Denmark and Poland, abstaining, seemed certain.

FIRM SUPPORT

France obtained the firm support of her former allies after it became apparent Denmark and Poland were attempting to block passage of any sharp censure of Germany's restoration of conscription. The small nations held an affront to Germany would blast hope of inducing her to return to Geneva.

The French presented a four-point resolution condemning Germany by name, and demanding a committee to put "teeth" in the League covenant so future violations will be punished by economic and financial penalties.

POINTS ARE TOLD

The resolution's chief points listed after outlining the German action and previous peace efforts by the "Big Three," follows:

1.—The Council declares "that Germany failed in her duty, which lies with all members in the international community to respect un-

(Continued on page 3)

State Rests; Defense For Gosden Says Wife Suicide

OAKLAND, April 16.—UP—Sobs from Louis Gosden as the defense introduced testimony regarding an operation on his wife brought a recess in his trial for murder today.

The dramatic interlude occurred when the defense, planning to prove that Gosden's wife, Laura, committed suicide because of an operation which disgusted her, called his first witness to the stand.

FRIEND TESTIFIES

Robert Starr, a friend of Gosden, testified that the Gosdens had lived happily together, he assisting her with household work. Starr told how Mrs. Gosden had mentioned her anticipated operation. At this point Gosden broke out sobbing in seemingly uncontrollable grief and Judge Frank M. O'Connell ordered a recess until the accused man could calm himself.

Defense Attorney Melvin Belli, disclosed that later he will introduce the 23-year-old wife's diary which describes how she stood before a mirror and lamented her disfigurement. He expects to justify this with evidence that Laura's older sister committed suicide.

LAWSON WITNESSES

As expert witnesses for the defense he introduced that he would (Continued on page 8)

STUDENTS DENY NUDIST PARADE

TORONTO, Ont., April 16.—UP—Reports that five girls were stripped naked and forced to parade before 25 men students of Ontario Agricultural College at Cuelth were investigated tonight.

Faces of two of the girls were smeared with iodine, the report said.

The men students told college authorities the girls came to the college building where they were studying college examinations and started to launter them.

"The students finally chased the girls across the campus and blacked their faces with shoe polish, the boys told me," Principal G. F. Christie said. "They told me only shoe polish was used and that no girl was stripped or touched."

Gladstone Lodge Honors Official

Grand President George N. Prothro, of San Mateo, paid his official visit to Gladstone lodge, Sons of St. George last night at a meeting held in the Memorial hall.

Prothro was accompanied by a staff of grand lodge officers, who told the members of Gladstone lodge of the work of the organization. The drill team of Albion lodge of Oakland was present to assist in the ritualistic work.

Past Grand President E. T. Vickery was introduced by E. J. Vickery, the president of the local lodge.

It was announced that more than 200 persons are expected to attend the good-will meeting to be sponsored by Gladstone lodge at Memorial Hall in two weeks. Delegates from all Northern California lodges will attend.

Following the meeting refreshments were served by a committee headed by Herbert Caswell.

Loot Taken From Store Worth $100

After a survey yesterday by officials of the Conn store at Twenty-third street and Macdonald avenue, it was announced that loot stolen by a burglar who entered the place yesterday morning was valued at about $100.

Kodaks, pens, pencils, cigarettes and other items were stolen.

NO ONE IS INJURED IN EXPLOSION

An explosion created by either a time bomb or a dynamite blast last night damaged a Standard Oil distributing plant at the foot of Pine street in Martinez.

The blast was set off at 10:35 P. M. and shook the neighborhood. The explosion tore away a section of the loading platform, tipping a hole three feet square in the heavy plank, and knocked down underpinning of the structure.

PROBE STARTED

Chief of Police Charles Palmer of Martinez and Deputy Sheriff Louis Rampoldi of Sheriff John A. Miller's office immediately launched an investigation into the explosion. At an early hour this morning no clues had been uncovered by the investigators.

The station had been closed earlier in the evening and luckily, no one was in the immediate neighborhood of the (Continued on page 8)

SUGAR PLANT STRIKE ENDED

Settlement of the strike at the Crockett sugar refinery was announced in San Francisco yesterday by W. B. Tyler, vice president of the California-Hawaiian Sugar Refining Corporation.

Tyler announced that the company had signed a collective bargaining agreement with a 1,000-shoremen unit, effective immediately and expiring on September 30.

Company officials also declared that the new agreement does not provide for a closed shop, but records recognition to the union.

The strike, which was sudden, declared last month, closed the Crockett plant. Pickets from militant unions surrounded the huge refinery and kept more than 250 workers virtual prisoners for an entire night.

Shop's deputies, and "vigilantes" resumed the workmen the next day. Plant officials, in order to avoid further conflict, closed the plant. Under an agreement with the unions, however, the plant was reopened a few days later and has been in operation ever since.

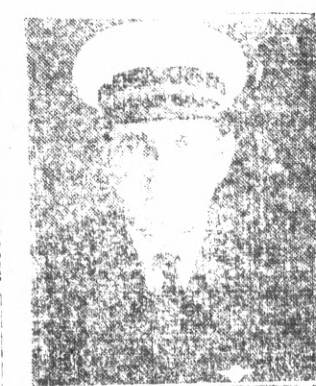

Wood Is Winner Of Lions Contest

Ralph Wood was admitted winner of the oratorical contest held by the Richmond Lions Club yesterday in preparation for the next meeting of the Golden Gate Council. Wood will represent the local club at the council meeting and will compete with other speakers of the area for the honor of representing the district at the State convention where an oratorical contest will be held.

Speakers yesterday, who were introduced by the members, were Mayor George Imbach, George Shaw, Rev. Meryl Bish and Wood.

THOMAS DEANEY and M. Claire Schmidt yesterday filed their nomination petitions for the city council election.

Crew Of Clipper Ship

EDWIN C. MUSICK, Captain of Trans-Pacific Pan-American Clipper.

E. O. D. SULLIVAN, First Officer.

V. A. WRIGHT, Engineering Officer.

W. T. SARBOE JR., Radio Officer.

F. J. NOONAN, Navigation Officer.

HARRY E. CANADAY, Junior Flight Officer.

No Cash, Ickes Edict; Go To Hell Says Huey In Works Bill Battle

WASHINGTON, April 16.—UP—Public Works Administrator Harold I. Ickes today served notice on Senator Huey P. Long (D., La.) that "no public works money is going to be built up any share by the wealth political machines."

Threatening to rescind all Federal allotments to Louisiana, Ickes said: "I don't think Senator Long is going to dictate to us how we run our program in Louisiana. PWA money has never come to build up any political machine, and it won't be used by Senator Long to further his share of the wealth plan."

Characterizing Long as "the emperor of Louisiana," Ickes bitterly criticized his plan of distributing wealth.

"Long, by action of his Legislature, will keep a lot of men out of work if he makes it possible for PWA to make grant," Ickes said. "Perhaps part of his share of the wealth program will be to trade money without creating work."

"That would be a new and profitable attack on Long was implied by a but not pending before the Louisiana Legislature to place under Long's direction the payment of all funds obtained from the Federal Government to local governing agencies."

BE TELLS THEN

BAYTON, LOUIS., April 16.—UP—Senator Huey P. Long today defied the Federal Government to withdraw a $1,000,000 PWA allotment from Louisiana, and said: "Secretary of Interior Ickes can go to hell for all I care."

"We are sick and tired of these Washington measures," he continued. "We are done. The United States Government in favor of us, we let them be done with us."

Characterizing Long as "the emperor of Louisiana," Ickes bitterly criticized his plan of distributing wealth.

"Long, by action of his Legislature, will keep a lot of men out of work if he makes it possible for PWA to make grant," Ickes said. "Perhaps part of his share of the wealth program will be to trade money without creating work."

"That would be a new and profitable attack on Long was implied by a but not pending before the Louisiana Legislature to place under Long's direction the payment of all funds obtained from the Federal Government to local governing agencies."

BE TELLS THEN

BAYTON, LOUIS., April 16.—UP—Senator Huey P. Long today defied the Federal Government to withdraw a $1,000,000 PWA allotment from Louisiana, and said: "Secretary of Interior Ickes can go to hell for all I care."

PAIR HELD IN HOME ROBBERY

Local Drochman, of 621 Thirtieth street and Aileen Joseph were arrested by Richmond police last night and were lodged in the city jail on charges of burglarizing the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hafner at 621 Barrett avenue.

Both Drochman and the woman refused to make any statement to police, the girl also refusing to give her age or address.

Mr. and Mrs. Hafner swore to the complaint, charging that the man and woman entered their home by breaking a window on the front door. The Hafners reported that they were returning home at about 8:35 last evening and saw the pair leaving the house with a bundle of clothing, allegedly owned by Mrs. Hafner.

Shortly after, local police arrested the couple. Arresting officers said that Drochman and Miss Joseph had in their possession clothing stolen from the Hafners.

"The pair will be questioned further this morning by police and officers from the district attorney's office."

Mayor George F. Imbach, past commander of the post, was toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Musical entertainment was furnished by the SERA orchestra under the direction of Carl Richards.

Past commanders who were present were: Ralph Wood, S. S. Rupp, A. A. Hughes, William Jones, George Ford, George Imbach, John Starnes, Jack Annot, Fred Macert, Fred Hecker and G. Washbaugh.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

PROGRESS OF PLANE TOLD BY REPORTS

At 12:30 o'clock this morning the Clipper was reported winning its way to its destination, having navigated over half of the distance. Visibility was reported good by the fliers who said that they had slowed down to about 121 miles per hour to check their motors and instruments. The motors were said to be working perfectly. At the time of the report a distance of over 1,300 miles had been traversed and if the same rate of speed is maintained the Clipper will land at nine o'clock this morning. A fall wind of about 10 miles an hour aided the progress of the plane.

ALAMEDA, April 16.—UP—The giant Pan-American Clipper, carrying America's bid for commercial air supremacy of the Pacific, roared away from its California base today for Honolulu, 2,400 miles distant.

Its four motors drenching smoothly the 19-ton ship ploughed through the green waters of San Francisco Bay, then lifted into the air at 3:50 o'clock this morning. A fall wind of about 10 miles an hour aided the progress of the plane.

(Continued on page 8)

VETERANS POST HONORS CHIEFS

Past Commanders of Honor Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were honored guests last evening at the meeting of the organization held in Memorial Hall, Clifford Hunt, commander, presided over the business meeting, at which time plans were made to entertain the junior drum corps at the next meeting.

At the conclusion of the business meeting, the session was opened to the public. At that time talk were made by city officials and candidates at the coming city council election.

Speakers were: Dr. A. B. Hinkley, who welcomed the visitors on behalf of the city; Councilman Walter Johnston; City Manager James A. McVittie; a representative of Claire Curry Schmidt, council candidate; City Councilman Otto Ludwig; City Councilman Frank Tuller; Police Chief L. E. Jones; Fire Chief W. F. Cooper; Assistant Chief F. Schmidt; Postmaster L. J. Thomas; City Clerk Arthur Paris; Supervisor James N. Long; Dan Nozella, Harry Burt, Laid Johnson, John A. Bell, Joe Perasso, Al Lambert and Thomas Deane, all candidates for the city council.

Mayor George F. Imbach, past commander of the post, was toastmaster and introduced the speakers. Musical entertainment was furnished by the SERA orchestra under the direction of Carl Richards.

Past commanders who were present were: Ralph Wood, S. S. Rupp, A. A. Hughes, William Jones, George Ford, George Imbach, John Starnes, Jack Annot, Fred Macert, Fred Hecker and G. Washbaugh.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Refreshments were served at the conclusion of the meeting.

Has Family Now

PRETTY, a canary owned by Mrs. B. A. Freer of Seattle, was broken-hearted when her two eggs were broken. Mrs. Freer gave her a bantam chick egg to pacify her. The canary sat on the egg three weeks, distending her wings to cover it. Much to the surprise of everyone except Pretty herself, a noisy bantam chick was hatched. The chick was approximately twice the weight and size of Pretty.

Hollywood Film Shop

Born in the famous "Hell's Kitchen" reared in New York's East Side and his education terminated by a distasteful career that started at sixteen, George Raft ought to be the individual in private life that he portrays on the screen.

Paradoxically, he's the anti-thesis of that type. He's rather shy and retiring, with none of the blarney, "hot-cha" dancing boy about him.

As democratic as bacon and eggs, he is the pal and confidant of all the studio property boys, electricians and "grins." Whenever one of the boys is ill or has to send a member of his family to the hospital—any of those minor tragedies that so often seem to occur—Raft is the first one to lend a helping hand.

Recently Harry Ray, Raft's favorite make-up man, fell and knocked out a tooth. Raft asked him why he didn't have it replaced, and learned that Ray wasn't able to right away. Without further ado, George bundled the make-up man into his car and sent him to his own dentist.

Raft hasn't "gone out" in weeks. He never does when he is working, and he has made three pictures without a day's rest between. Occasionally he goes to the boxing matches but that's the height of his dissipation. Cafes and night clubs are "out."

Raft always is courteous. That most trying situation for the actor "blowing up" in his lines, never ruffles him. Many of the actors be-

Aching, weary feet relieved

Now—before your nerves snap under the strain—is the time to ease those aching, weary feet, crooked toes, weak, turning ankles, corns, callouses, bunions.

Dr. Scholl's Foot Comfort Appliances

can relieve you of foot troubles as they have thousands of other sufferers. We have these famous devices here at the store. Our foot comfort demonstrator will gladly show what they can do for you.

Don't wish you had come in—be glad you did.

B. B. Comfort Shoe Store

Arch Supports from $1 up
720 Macdonald Ave.

BEER! — BEER! — BEER!

DIRECT FROM THE BEG. NO COOLS USED
100 GALLONS ON TAP AT ALL TIMES

BOOK BEER NOW ON DRAUGHT

THE CALIFORNIA

1214 Macdonald Ave. GEORGE RUSSELL, Prop. Tel. Rich. 1147

SANDWICHES — LUNCHES — FINEST WINES

GEORGE ARLISS IN IRON DUKE AT FOX TODAY

"I am complimented by your jealousy!" is George Arliss' effective retort to a suspicious husband in "The Iron Duke," which opens on a double program with "Wednesday's Child" at the Fox theatre today.

"Wednesday's Child" is the screen adaptation of the stage hit and stars Edward Arnold, Karen Morley, Frankie Thomas and Shirley Grey.

In the role of Wellington, Arliss shows the victor of Waterloo to be as irresistible a conqueror in love as he was in war. His is a Wellington as apt in defense with his tongue, as he is in the direction of military fire.

Arliss is said to depict himself with masterly effect in these conquests but finds opportunity to invest many scenes with his mellowed and frankish humor.

Test Suit For Deputy's Salary

MARTINEZ, April 16.—A test suit is to be filed by District Attorney Francis P. Healey to clarify payment of $197 monthly to Gordon Turner, newly appointed temporary deputy district attorney.

Healey informed the supervisors yesterday afternoon of his intent to file the action when it developed that County Auditor A. N. Sullivan questions his authority to honor Turner's pay claim inasmuch as specific authority is lacking in the county government bill.

The district attorney, however, declares that a section of general law empowers him to name additional deputies in the event of emergency but to clarify the situation he will file a test case and get a court ruling. Healey contends that an appointment made with the unanimous consent of the board of supervisors is legal.

Official reason given for refusal is that the report deals with much more. It covers particularly the growth of unionism and communism among agricultural workers.

Meanwhile, the plight of the Southern share-cropper continues to be severe. It has become a problem not only for the Department of Agriculture but also for the Federal Relief Administration.

They are their relief bills notwithstanding in southern states, and want to know whether this results from cotton tenancy being dispossessed.

Harry Hopkins has sent a specialist into the field to make an intensive study of the whole farm tenancy situation.

He is careful to avoid saying that the cotton reduction program under the direction of his good friend Chester Davis has aggravated his relief problem.

He is making no charges. But he wants the facts.

Sol Rosenblatt, hard-working NRA enforcement officer, was explaining to members of the Lumber Code Authority why the government had decided not to try rigid enforcement.

"Frankly we don't believe in some of the provisions in this code," he said. "There is no use, therefore, to kid ourselves that the government is going to try to enforce them."

"Well," interrupted David Mason, chairman of the authority, "you have been kidding us lumbermen for 18 months."

FARM CENSUS
Results of the census of agriculture are awaited with expectancy. One item of special interest is the amount of farm mortgage debt.

Two of the 100 questions on the schedule were framed to deal specifically with this matter. But the results, when published, will not tell the whole story of farm mortgages.

A technicality in editing the schedules is causing the figure of mortgage debt to be scratched in hundreds of cases.

Instructions have been given to editors to scratch this item in cases where the farmer does not own all of the land or owns land elsewhere.

If, for example, a man owns 500 acres on which he carries a $30,000 mortgage, and owns 10 acres elsewhere, the $30,000 figure is scratched. That mortgage will not appear in the totals when the Census Bureau publishes its results.

FERA PIPER
Waving his arms wildly, a man rose from his seat in the waiting room of FERA office recently and declared he had cooled his heels long enough.

"I want to see Mr. Hopkins," he demanded.

The secretary tried again to persuade him that his project for "constructing a second line of military defense" was something for the War Department to review, not the Relief Administration.

"But I propose to give employment," he declared, "to two thousand people!"

This was a signal for the other head-coolers to flock around him. The office was full of job-appliants. They pushed in to the man with an idea and offered their services.

"Suppose I'll give you jobs," he cried. "I'll give you all jobs. You come with me. If the relief people

At Fox Today

SCENES FROM "Wednesday's Child" above, and "The Iron Duke" comprise the unusually excellent double program for the patrons of the popular playhouse.

WASHINGTON, April 16.—More than a thousand persons have asked Seth Thomas, AAA solicitor for a copy of the Myers report on the treatment of share-croppers by cotton plantation owners.

To every request Thomas has said no.

Official reason given for refusal is that the report deals with a legal case which is nobody's business while the AAA is preparing prosecution.

Actually the report deals with much more. It covers particularly the growth of unionism and communism among agricultural workers.

Meanwhile, the plight of the Southern share-cropper continues to be severe. It has become a problem not only for the Department of Agriculture but also for the Federal Relief Administration.

They are their relief bills notwithstanding in southern states, and want to know whether this results from cotton tenancy being dispossessed.

Harry Hopkins has sent a specialist into the field to make an intensive study of the whole farm tenancy situation.

He is careful to avoid saying that the cotton reduction program under the direction of his good friend Chester Davis has aggravated his relief problem.

He is making no charges. But he wants the facts.

Sol Rosenblatt, hard-working NRA enforcement officer, was explaining to members of the Lumber Code Authority why the government had decided not to try rigid enforcement.

"Frankly we don't believe in some of the provisions in this code," he said. "There is no use, therefore, to kid ourselves that the government is going to try to enforce them."

"Well," interrupted David Mason, chairman of the authority, "you have been kidding us lumbermen for 18 months."

FARM CENSUS
Results of the census of agriculture are awaited with expectancy. One item of special interest is the amount of farm mortgage debt.

Two of the 100 questions on the schedule were framed to deal specifically with this matter. But the results, when published, will not tell the whole story of farm mortgages.

A technicality in editing the schedules is causing the figure of mortgage debt to be scratched in hundreds of cases.

Instructions have been given to editors to scratch this item in cases where the farmer does not own all of the land or owns land elsewhere.

If, for example, a man owns 500 acres on which he carries a $30,000 mortgage, and owns 10 acres elsewhere, the $30,000 figure is scratched. That mortgage will not appear in the totals when the Census Bureau publishes its results.

FERA PIPER
Waving his arms wildly, a man rose from his seat in the waiting room of FERA office recently and declared he had cooled his heels long enough.

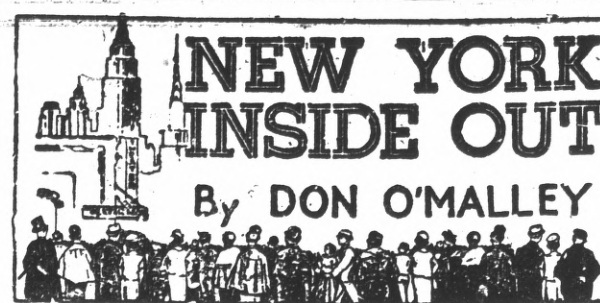

"I want to see Mr. Hopkins," he demanded.

The secretary tried again to persuade him that his project for "constructing a second line of military defense" was something for the War Department to review, not the Relief Administration.

"But I propose to give employment," he declared, "to two thousand people!"

This was a signal for the other head-coolers to flock around him. The office was full of job-appliants. They pushed in to the man with an idea and offered their services.

"Suppose I'll give you jobs," he cried. "I'll give you all jobs. You come with me. If the relief people

NEW YORK, April 16.—Al Smith has apparently deserted politics in favor of high finance.

The man of brown derby fame has a favorite hippo at the Central Park Zoo. Four times a week he visits her and tosses a bucketful of apples down her throat. It's a method of relaxation he formed after moving up to Fifth Avenue and Sixty-third street.

Leaving the lower East Side for the swanky regions of Manhattan was a drastic change for Al. May be the excursions to the zoo indicate Tammany nostalgia.

CARRY ON—Florenz Ziegfeld is no longer here to direct the "Follies," but the tradition is being carried on by Billie Burke, his wife. The last edition of the famous show has just completed a fifty-eight week tour of the country which brought more than a million dollars into the treasury. Now Ira Gerswain and Vernon Duke have been commissioned to write the lyrics and score of the next edition, which is due in town some time during the summer.

The "Follies" is one of the fixtures of New York entertainment. Some of the most famous names in the theatrical roster came into prominence via this vehicle. A pair of front row seats for decades has meant an invariable red-letter night for anyone in town who's anyone, and few considered their theatrical season complete without roving over the skirts of Billie Burke, Willie and Eugene Howard and a score of other famous performers.

Billie Burke inherited not only a theatrical property, but a social institution.

EVE STARTED IT—The legal sherpas had better make up their minds about this nudity business. Magistrate Brodsky rendered a startling decision in Tombs Court the other day when he dismissed charges against two young women dancers. "Nudity is no longer considered indecent in uptown night clubs and theaters," said the judge, and the cops who made the arrests were left scratching their heads in bewilderment.

At the same time, however, the State Senate passed a bill prohibiting the wearing of costumes that would cause the death sentence for central banking.

Following this decision, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

But in the Senate, the opposite is true. The Senate committee has not even begun consideration of the bill. Furthermore it is harboring a sub-rosa scheme to scuttle it.

On the surface, the scheme appears completely innocent. The bill under consideration deals with two subjects—the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the central banking system. Senate committee foes of central banking propose that the two topics be separated into two individual bills.

Following this division, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

But in the Senate, the opposite is true. The Senate committee has not even begun consideration of the bill. Furthermore it is harboring a sub-rosa scheme to scuttle it.

On the surface, the scheme appears completely innocent. The bill under consideration deals with two subjects—the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the central banking system. Senate committee foes of central banking propose that the two topics be separated into two individual bills.

Following this division, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

But in the Senate, the opposite is true. The Senate committee has not even begun consideration of the bill. Furthermore it is harboring a sub-rosa scheme to scuttle it.

On the surface, the scheme appears completely innocent. The bill under consideration deals with two subjects—the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the central banking system. Senate committee foes of central banking propose that the two topics be separated into two individual bills.

Following this division, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

But in the Senate, the opposite is true. The Senate committee has not even begun consideration of the bill. Furthermore it is harboring a sub-rosa scheme to scuttle it.

On the surface, the scheme appears completely innocent. The bill under consideration deals with two subjects—the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the central banking system. Senate committee foes of central banking propose that the two topics be separated into two individual bills.

Following this division, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

But in the Senate, the opposite is true. The Senate committee has not even begun consideration of the bill. Furthermore it is harboring a sub-rosa scheme to scuttle it.

On the surface, the scheme appears completely innocent. The bill under consideration deals with two subjects—the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation and the central banking system. Senate committee foes of central banking propose that the two topics be separated into two individual bills.

Following this division, they would pass the FDIC immediately, leaving the central bank idea for "later consideration." This would mean the death sentence for central banking.

Candidate Wins Fight Over Vote

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—Lynden Bowring, Los Angeles county candidate for Superior judge, today won the right to enter the May 7 municipal election run when the State Supreme Court ordered the name of Denmar McCloskey stricken from the ballot.

The action was sought in a mandamus action filed by Bowring seeking to disqualify McCloskey on the ground he had not been a member of the state bar for the required length of time.

The county local affairs office issued an alternative writ on April 8, and the writ was made permanent today.

burning news, tipplers. * * * The Department of Welfare's outdoor portable theaters will begin their rounds about June 15. Last year hundreds of thousands found pleasure in hot summer night strolling in the parks and witnessing the repertoire of plays. * * * E. A. Matthred, suave, dry and droll, is back on Broadway with an inimitable bit in "The Dominant Sex."

Mr. Matthews has been entertaining players since way back in 1910. * * * Morton Baum, Republican tax counsel to Democratic Comptroller Taylor, was once a whiz of a chess player, winning his spurs for Columbia in intercollegiate state tournaments. * * * The tax situation in town is certainly a chess come favorites in town. * * * That smaze for the best player to solve.

Mary Dean is trapped by her Uncle Nathan's eccentric will, which divides his fortune between her and her younger brother and sister. Jerry and Ann, only on condition that she marries Jarred Marsh, a young man from South America whom she has never seen until he arrives for the reading of the will. They agree to marry for the sake of Jerry and Ann. But Don Harvey, newspaper reporter, who is in love with Mary, is determined to stop the marriage. He steals the will, Carmie, the local secret agent, is asked to find anything he can do to save the marriage. Jarred, however, is strangely anxious to get it back, but when he hears that Jarred has instigated the District Attorney to sue him, he turns on Don's trail, he phones Don and warns him. Jarred overhears her and angrily asks her if she is trying to "double-cross" him.

CHAPTER XVIII
CARMIE faced Jarred calmly. "Don't be a fool, Jar," she said quietly.

His anger suddenly changed to a whine.

"But darn it, Carmie, first Mary mopes over that fool Harvey, and now you go soft on him. It's a bit too much!"

"Look here, stupid."

She advanced and slipped her white arms around his neck. Then she kissed him, slowly. Jarred did not respond for a second. Then he caught her in his arms and kissed her fiercely. Carmie released herself after a second kiss.

"That will be all of that. If that kid upstairs is right, we would have trouble. Now you sit down and listen to me."

"O.K.," Jarred answered, pacified.

"You want to toss this Don Harvey into the can, but that's foolish. What we want is that will, and she patters his cheek and crossed to a chair.

"But Mary intends to carry out the provisions of the will whether it's returned or not. I'm not worrying about the will. What I want is to get even with that guy Jarred. I've got a right to."

Jarred lighted a cigarette. "Besides, I slipped Slick Jim something to find that will, and Jim's no fool. He'll do the job."

"He might do it but I wouldn't depend on him," said Carmie. "When he's drunk—which is often—he wouldn't know a will from a Sunday paper."

"Oh, well, drat the will! I'm out to get that bird Harvey, and I'll get him if I have to hire a rod to do it!" Jarred rasped.

"FORGET that stuff. This is a job that is safe. Why make it tough? And here is something you have overlooked, with your brilliant thinking. You may be able to clamp onto Mary Dean's arm without that will, but you'll not be able to handle the other two thirds which goes to those kids. You have to have that will to be made their guardian. If we don't get the will, that old fossil, Everitt Sloan, will go on being their guardian, and that will cost us a couple of million."

Jarred sat up suddenly and tossed aside his cigarette. He had not thought of that angle of the thing. Carmie was smart. But he was still stubborn.

"Once that bird Harvey sees the big house ahead of him, he'll cough up the will all right."

Carmie gave him a disgusted look.

"And you think you are smart? That boy would rot in the pen before he'd give up that will to you. I know my reporters and others who fall hard for a girl like this Mary Dean. You leave Harvey to me, and I'll get the will. I can handle him."

"Oh, all right," Jarred finally agreed. "Only don't forget to get the will. I can handle him."

(To be continued)

Phone RICHMOND 584

FOX WEST COAST THEATRES

RICHMOND

TODAY

GEORGE ARLISS

"The IRON DUKE"

EDWARD ARNOLD

KAREN MORLEY

"WEDNESDAY'S CHILD"

FRANKIE THOMAS

SHIRLEY GREY

RKO HIT

HEY! KIDDIES... LOOKY WHAT'S COMING!

Next Saturday Afternoon

KIDDIES KARTOON KARNIVAL

MATINEE - FUN - SHOW!

4 CARTOONS IN ADDITION TO 2 BIG FEATURES

Vote For Dan Noziglia

A Business Man for the Industrial Development of Richmond

Councilman

Primary Election April 29, 1935

Clubs Lodges Society

MRS. FLANAGAN IS HONORED WITH SHOWER

Mrs. H. C. Bowman, 123 Fifteenth street, entertained Monday evening at a farewell party in honor of Mrs. William Flanagan, who, with her husband, left yesterday for San Francisco to make their home.

Mrs. Bowman was assisted by her sister, Miss Myrtle Barber, in entertaining. The guests presented Mrs. Flanagan with a leather album which contained snap shots of each class member and appropriate verses written by the various members. The gift, which was presented by Mrs. J. T. Conwell, teacher of the class, proved most pleasing to the honoree.

The Flanagans have been very active workers in the local Presbyterian church, and will be greatly missed by their many friends. Flanagan has recently retired from the Standard Oil company after several years of service.

Games, music and refreshments occupied the guests during the evening.

Those present to honor Mrs. Flanagan were Mesdames William Patterson, John Weimer, H. A. Berry, Ida Bowers, Isabel Dool, Tom Shelton, Ruth Brashers, H. J. Scott, J. T. Conwell, Emma Allison, George Fowell, Lulu Mortensen, and H. C. Bowman; Miss Myrtle Barber and Little Hazel Mae Bowman.

N. D. LODGE HAS SOCIAL MEETING HERE

A business and social meeting was enjoyed by members of the Richmond Parlor of Native Daughters of the Golden West last night at the Richmond clubhouse. Mrs. Elizabeth Pasch presided.

At the business session plans were discussed for election of officers, which will be held in the very near future.

Whist was played and prizes were won by Gertrude and Elizabeth Pasch, Bessie Leach and Harriet Dierks.

Mrs. George Curry and Miss Grace Curry were on the social committee for the evening.

MR. AND MRS. C. C. EASTMAN have as their guest Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Peyton of San Francisco.

Have The Driver Call or take your Cleaning to BLACK'S
1300 Macdonald Ave.
Telephone Richmond 723

HUNT SCHOOL OF PIANOFORTE

519 Sixth Street
Mrs. Mary Jo Hunt, director.
Fall Registrations are now open
Certificates and diplomas
Courses Fully Accredited
Rates upon application

Charges are Moderate

It is well to remember that a beautiful mortuary does not mean high prices, as this firm proves. With all the refinements and comforts to be found here, charges are never higher than the smallest incomes can easily afford. By including everything in one plainly marked price, we have made it possible for every family to make an appropriate selection without financial hardship.

WILSON & KRATZER, Mortuary
Bissell at Seventh Street Phone Richmond 113
RICHMOND

Lady Attendant Ambulance Service

Whats Doing Here Today

N. O. W. LODGE, sewing club, meetings tonight and today.

CIVIC CENTER CLUB whist party tonight.

CIRCLE NO. 3 Wesley Aid, yesing today.

LADIES OF G. A. R. business meeting today.

LABOR COUNCIL business meeting tonight.

ROYAL ARCH MASONS at Masonic temple.

TAROE COUNCIL business meeting tonight.

BETROTHAL OF LOCAL COUPLE IS ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the betrothal of their daughter, Miss Lucienne Sargent to Archer Odell, Jr., son of Police Judge and Mrs. C. A. Odell was made yesterday by Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sargent of Fifteenth street.

The announcement followed a party held at the Sargent home on Sunday. The marriage of the couple will take place early this summer.

The evening was spent in music and singing, after which supper was served. Table decorations were carried out in white, with pink roses and pink lighted candles.

Those present to hear the betrothal news were Judge and Mrs. C. A. Odell and children, Lois, Betty and Archer; Mr. and Mrs. George Smith; Mr. and Mrs. Archie McVicker and daughter; Glenn Miller, Henry Nickles and Miss Frances Bonner of Alameda; and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sargent.

Both Odell and Miss Sargent are graduates of the local schools. Miss Sargent has lived here for the past eleven years, coming to Richmond with her family from Montreal, Canada. Odell has lived here practically all his life, and is a Ford company employee.

D. A. LODGE
ENTERTAINS AT SOCIAL

A delightful social evening was enjoyed last evening by the Daughters of America at their meeting, held in the Woodman Hall at Seventh and Macdonald.

A short business meeting was held with George Black presiding. Plans were made at that time for the whist party to be held on the evening of May 1. Barney Darling will be in charge and he has invited the public to be in attendance.

After the business meeting a social time was enjoyed. Birthdays of members for the month of April were especially honored.

Mrs. Grace Browning and Mrs. Julia Woods had charge of all arrangements for the party.

MUSIC STUDIO

A limited number of pupils in saxophone or clarinet instruction, or musical coaching will be accepted. F. C. Bibbins, 830 Thirtieth street, Telephone Rich. 3095W 4-9-47

JUNIOR CLUB MENDELSSOHN HAS ELECTION

Miss Neba Neville was re-elected president of Junior Club Mendelssohn last night at a meeting held in the home of Miss Dorothy Bergen. Miss Elsie Appel was co-hostess.

Other officers named were: Janet Grahame, vice president; Alberta Hill, secretary; Celia Pearl Falthorpe, treasurer; Marian Bryant, hostess committee.

Announcement was made that tickets are on sale for the card party to be held by the club on April 27, at one o'clock at the Richmond clubhouse.

Arrangements are also being made for a formal guest night on May 17, which will be the climax of the year's work.

Jane Jenkins will entertain the group on May 7.

The program last night included piano solos by Dorothy Younglove and Marion Bryant. Mrs. Leo Viano, president of the senior club, was a guest. Refreshments were served.

HOMER MINER, MISS FULTON ARE MARRIED

Homer A. Miner, well known Richmond man, claimed as his bride Miss Edna Fulton, of Oakland at a quiet ceremony at the home of Attorney and Mrs. R. T. Corey in Albany on Monday night.

Rev. K. B. Wallace officiated at the services.

Besides Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young of El Cerrito, who attended the couple, others present at the ceremony included Mrs. B. F. Miner, of Richmond, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. W. W. McMillen, of San Francisco, sisters of Miner; and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Conn, of Richmond.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left on their honeymoon. They will return in two weeks to make their home at 317 South Sixth street, Richmond.

Miner is employed by the Southern Pacific company at Oakland. His bride has been employed at Pasadena.

CIRCLE NO. 4 WESLEY AID PLANS EVENTS

An invitational luncheon, which will be held next week at the church, was planned yesterday when Circle No. 4 of the Wesley Ladies' Aid society held its meeting at the home of Mrs. Carrie Long on Twelfth street.

Mrs. Vera Kates presided over the business meeting of the circle, which was followed by a social.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

WAR MOTHERS WILL ELECT DELEGATES

A delegate to the State convention will be elected by the Richmond chapter of American War Mothers when the lodge holds its meeting Thursday afternoon at one o'clock at the Memorial hall.

Every member has been urged to be in attendance.

Following the business meeting a public whist party will be enjoyed. Everyone has been invited to attend the affair. Many prizes will be awarded.

Reports were heard on the recent convention held at Los Gatos.

Routine business matters were discussed when the Richmond Homestead held its meeting last night at the clubrooms, 818 Macdonald avenue.

E. C. Kates presided over the business meeting, which was followed by a social and refreshments. Lillian Gomez, Sarah Gray and Grace Rhein had charge of the social hour.

Reports were heard on the recent convention held at Los Gatos.

Peace Conference

THE RECENT conference in Moscow when Captain Anthony Eden, Britain's Lord Privy Seal, held his peace conference with Soviet dictator Josef Stalin and his aides. Left to right, front, are: Captain Eden, Stalin and Viscount Chilton, British Ambassador. Rear: V. M. Molotov, I. M. Maisky, Soviet British Ambassador and M. Litvinoff.

Breakfast Fire

IF YOU do it the way Dr. W. H. Smith, associate Director of Franklin Institute, Philadelphia, demonstrated in New York, as above, you merely pour water on ice. However, he did sprinkle some carbide, that gives off acetylene gas, on the ice. The demonstration was before the American Institute, studying the action of liquid air and chemicals.

HOMESTEADERS LAY PLANS FOR COMING EVENTS

Routine business matters were discussed when the Richmond Homestead held its meeting last night at the clubrooms, 818 Macdonald avenue.

E. C. Kates presided over the business meeting, which was followed by a social and refreshments. Lillian Gomez, Sarah Gray and Grace Rhein had charge of the social hour.

Reports were heard on the recent convention held at Los Gatos.

THE YOUNG IDEAR

By Opdyke

"Aw, but when you're sensible you don't have any fun!"

Baby Face Aides Appeal To Court

SAN FRANCISCO, April 16.—UP—Federal Judge Walter G. Lindley today referred to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals the request for bonds filed by three men convicted of conspiring to harbor George (Baby Face) Nelson, plain gangster. He had refused to hear the motions for bail pending appeal.

Judge Lindley, on temporary assignment from Danville, Ill., expressed the opinion that the pleas should be ruled upon by a local rather than a visiting jurist.

The men are Thomas C. Grobo Williams, Vallejo general hospital manager; Henry (Tex) Hall, Reno gambler; and Anthony (Son) Morano, San Francisco bartender. Counsel argued that Williams was worth $100,000 and wouldn't escape.

Rustler Captured By Hanford Cops

HANFORD, April 16.—UP—Local authorities today ended a four-day manhunt for Douglas Wolfe, 21, said to be wanted in Smyth county, Va., for cattle stealing.

Wolfe, alias Paul Craven, sought refuge in an isolated cabin near here after escaping Kings county authorities last Friday. A $200 reward is said to be posted for his arrest.

Beian Funeral To Be Held On Monday

Funeral services for the late Mrs. Ma Trinita Beian will be held Monday morning at 9:30 o'clock from St. Paul's church in San Pablo under the direction of the Wilson & Kratzer chapel. Interment will be in St. Joseph's cemetery.

Rosary will be said this evening at 8:30 at the chapel.

W. T. HELMS, local superintendent of schools, has been elected a director of the California Teachers' Association.

C. C. Division Of Taxpayers Back New Police Plan

E. I. de Laveaga, head of the Contra Costa county Division of California Taxpayers' Association has been appointed to the statewide committee, which has been organized to establish a state police system, according to notices received here yesterday.

The committee will study the support of legislation now pending providing for a non-political state police system for the incorporated areas of the state. The proposal contemplates the retirement of county constables, and limiting the duties of the county sheriff to civil matters only.

There is present need for a vastly improved system of law enforcement in California, and there is a necessity to reduce the number and the costs of the existing disorganized agencies in this state charged with protecting life and property.

It is believed a state police system will be the solution of the problem, and I am sure when the people of Contra Costa county understand the proposal now pending before the present legislature, they will back the Taxpayers' Association's program in this regard to the limit," said de Laveaga.

Directors of the association, at their meeting last week formally went on record as favoring and sponsoring the proposed measure of a state police system.

HELENWOOD, Tenn., April 16.—UP—Fifty houses in this town of 1000 population were damaged and several persons were injured, none seriously, when a powder house exploded today. The powder was set off by a burning residence.

HOT WATER "on tap".. CHEAPER PER GALLON

NO NEED to be without a modern supply of hot water in your home any longer: hot April showers at the turn of a faucet as much as you need when you need it, any hour of day or night.

Automatic storage type gas water heaters provide a continuous supply of hot water to the average home and family for just a few cents a day.

At the low prices and exceptionally easy purchase terms offered this month, any home can afford a modern water heater.

BUY NOW
FOR AS LITTLE AS
$3 DOWN $3 A MONTH
This unusual offer is good for a limited time only.

Natural Gas... HIGHEST IN HEAT CONTENT... LOWEST IN YEAR-ROUND COST

P. G. and E.

PACIFIC GAS AND ELECTRIC COMPANY
Owned • Operated • Managed by Californians

Thank You

Record-Herald, Richmond, California.
Dear Editor:
The officers and members of Club Mendelssohn wish to thank you for your many courtesies to them, during their club year of 1934 and 35.
Sincerely yours,
MRS. A. W. WOODWORTH,
Corresponding Secretary.

Former Actress Is Found Guilty

ST. LOUIS, April 16.—UP—Mrs. Stella Ridell Talbot, former movie actress, was convicted in Circuit Court late today on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the slaying of Albert Frankenstein, her paramour, and was sentenced to five years in prison. Her screen name was Stella Day.

The jury deliberated less than an hour after hearing a vivid story of a drunken Christmas Day quarrel at a tavern where the couple were living. Mrs. Talbot testified there was a struggle for a gun with which Frankenstein had threatened her life, and that he was killed when it was accidentally discharged.

Counsel for Mrs. Talbot served notice of appeal.

Studio Opened by Mrs. Anna V. Staley
At 2110 Barrett Avenue
Modern music, voice and piano
In Richmond all day Tuesdays

OUR-DAILY-MAGAZINE-PAGE

YOUR GOOD HEALTH

By C. N. CHRISMAN, M.D.

Exaggerated Type of Footgear Often Is Responsible for the Appearance of Age

I HAVE had good cause to become interested in the way the feet of people, especially women, are affected by the type of shoes they wear. It is a fact that the exaggerated type of footgear often is responsible for the appearance of age.

A sample of cases of footgear which I have seen in my office is shown in the accompanying illustrations. The first is a case of a woman who has worn shoes with high heels for many years. The second is a case of a woman who has worn shoes with high heels for many years. The third is a case of a woman who has worn shoes with high heels for many years.

There are two or three people who are in the "golden years" which come to so many in middle age. First the general picture changes. The shoulders are not so erect and the neck is not so straight. The feet are not so firm and the muscles are not so strong.

Usually, the abdomen is larger and more inclined to protrude in middle age. The fact that we are in the "golden years" is not a matter of course. It is a matter of fact. The feet are not so firm and the muscles are not so strong.

In the effort to keep the general balance, the ankle muscles are held tense and finally thicken and grow stiff. This applies also to the muscles of the feet.

Next is a general consideration of the covering of the feet, which is often selected with little reference for the feet themselves. We should never expect a delicately balanced machine to do its very best work and keep its adjustment, if it always had to stand at an improper angle.

This applies especially to the shoes worn by women who affect high heels. A reasonable elevation under the heel of any person seems to be comfortable enough and not harmful, but even this should extend far enough toward the arch to give a real support to the foot. To put a narrow spike some two and a half or even three inches high directly under the center of the heel, requiring the body to maintain its equilibrium through sheer tension upon the muscles is to create an imbalance that must be recognized.

The strain upon the entire foot and shin will be reckoned in terms of lost elasticity and stiffness of the fibers of muscle and bone. All this is bound to be true, unless we consider the third point, which is that any group of muscles and bones carrying the weight and doing the work as required of the feet must have periods of rest.

There must be opportunity for the muscles to relax and for the blood to circulate through the tissues. Uncover the feet, put them up somewhere. They must be relieved of pressure and elevated to aid the flow of blood back to the body.

They also need free exercise. A good friend of mine, now in his sixties, turns on her radio and sings about the muscles on tiptoe, or sits down and rubs the ankle joints to the rhythm. And you would never guess her years to see her walk. When going up and down steps, stand straight, flex the knees and ankles. Don't go stumbling up and down the pedals if you want to avoid the appearance of age.

Concerning Questions
Dr. Chrisman offers readers the privilege of addressing questions to him care of this paper. He will answer questions of general interest in his regular daily column on this page.

Guide to Charm

MANY WOMEN PLAN AHEAD FOR A SUMMER TAN

By JACQUELINE HUNT

Now while the rays of our mounting sun are still tender and coaxing, you should make plans for your midsummer tan. While your tired skin welcomes the warm, fresh warmth of the spring sunshine, you will find that the rays are strong enough to bring a flash to your skin if you do not take too much time out of your busy schedule.

Expose your skin as long as you want to, now. There is little danger of a serious burn, but if you are wise you will apply good protection to eliminate even this possibility. In addition, the oil will keep your skin so soft and so supple that there will be no roughness and your gradual tanning will be beautifully even and clear.

A half-hour, or better still, an hour spent in your garden or on the lawn on sunny days, will give you a lovely bronze on your complexion by June or July. You will seem more colorful and more beautiful and will arouse the envy of your friends who let their tanning go until vacation time.

If you do not care about sunbathing, you may worry about freckles, then do not expose your skin to the sun without first covering it with a liberal film of foundation cream that will screen out most of the ultra-violet rays of the sun and help prevent burning.

Or you can pretend that you have a beautiful tan, by using a golden tinted foundation cream and dark powder on your face, neck, arms and exposed parts. Many of you will not care for this artifice, but it is a life-saver for girls who look well with dark skin, but freckle unmercifully when they try to get a natural tan.

Beniticians have at last realized that girls will go for the suntan fad when summer comes around, so they are forearmed. They have brought out cosmetics to glorify the outdoors girl. Pleasant, fragrant oils and creams, new shades of powder, rouge and lipstick, new hair creams and even new shades of eye shadow.

You will be most enthusiastic about the new matching rouges and lipsticks. One combination is a shade of terra cotta that is exquisite for the suntanned skin, bringing out all the lovely golden brown glow. These new lipsticks and rouges have a slight trace of purplish undertones and they haven't the over-brilliant appearance of many of the orange-red cosmetics. Many of you may want to try the new brick shades of rouge and lipstick, even though you do not go in for tanning.

Now is the time for you to invest in a box of powder of a darker shade. Mix it with that you ordinarily use in small quantities, increasing the proportion of dark powder as your complexion darkens.

Glamorous Eyes
If you want additional tips on eye make-up and new ways to eye beauty, send a self-addressed stamped envelope for a copy of the leaflet "Glamorous Eyes."

PROFILES FOR TODAY
By TALBOT LAKE

Dr. Vitzelly, Word Wizard, Tells About His Troubles With Critics on Pronunciation

DR. FRANK H. VIZETELLY, the word wizard, had a birthday recently. At seventy-one he admitted he is still waging his battle for correct usage, as he superintends the preliminary work for a new dictionary. Perhaps the greatest authority on words in the world, Dr. Vitzelly is forever getting wound up in discussions with critics — both professional and amateur.

The trouble is that Vitzelly has been speaking on the radio, and now his critics are more insistent than ever. They phone and write him almost constantly that he pronounces a word differently from the way it is put down in his dictionary.

Dr. Vitzelly, bluff, hearty, and looking exactly as an Englishman is supposed to look, is sometimes a little dismayed by these difficulties, but not for long.

"Usually, I find I have used the pronunciation the critics declare I did not use," he said. "I am a little bit of a word collector. I am a little bit of a word collector. I am a little bit of a word collector."

Valenciennes Lace Circulates Again, Being Used for Blouses and Dresses

By IRENE VAIL

Variety in Fabric
And in Silhouette

Copyright, 1935, by Patheco.

Beauty Tips

QUESTION: "Can you tell me what to do about large pores on my face around my cheeks? I weigh 95 pounds and am 16 years old. I use powder and once in a while use a vanishing cream and for about three weeks I have changed to soap for cleansing."

The vanishing cream may have caused the clogged condition that stretched your pores. The brand of soap that you mentioned happens to be my favorite and you should continue to use it or an equally good soap for scrubbing your skin once or twice daily. I think a soft complexion brush would help stimulate your skin and free the pores of hardened deposits. Rinse thoroughly and pat a simple home-made astringent on your skin. You can make one by mixing equal parts of hazel and boric acid solution. Use a very small amount of softening cream as a foundation before you apply your paste rouge and powder. By the way, I think you would have a clearer, finer skin if you could add five or ten pounds to your weight. Drink more milk, even if you don't like it, and try to get more rest.

Glamorous Eyes
If you want additional tips on eye make-up and new ways to eye beauty, send a self-addressed stamped envelope for a copy of the leaflet "Glamorous Eyes."

PROFILES FOR TODAY
By TALBOT LAKE

Dr. Vitzelly, Word Wizard, Tells About His Troubles With Critics on Pronunciation

DR. FRANK H. VIZETELLY, the word wizard, had a birthday recently. At seventy-one he admitted he is still waging his battle for correct usage, as he superintends the preliminary work for a new dictionary. Perhaps the greatest authority on words in the world, Dr. Vitzelly is forever getting wound up in discussions with critics — both professional and amateur.

The trouble is that Vitzelly has been speaking on the radio, and now his critics are more insistent than ever. They phone and write him almost constantly that he pronounces a word differently from the way it is put down in his dictionary.

Dr. Vitzelly, bluff, hearty, and looking exactly as an Englishman is supposed to look, is sometimes a little dismayed by these difficulties, but not for long.

"Usually, I find I have used the pronunciation the critics declare I did not use," he said. "I am a little bit of a word collector. I am a little bit of a word collector. I am a little bit of a word collector."

He admitted that the word hardest for him to pronounce following his "bedroom" tradition was "banana." It took a long time to prevent the second "a" from going broad on him.

Tasty and Nourishing Dishes for Today

Cooking Vegetables Demands Originality and Some Courage

By JUDITH WILSON

VEGETABLE dishes can be made unusually attractive if you use a variety of colorful vegetables that are equally tasty. One of the secrets of keeping the full rich flavor of your vegetables is to cook and season them separately and then combine them into a vegetable pie or a tempting casserole dish before serving.

Go easy on creamed vegetables, as dishes of this sort are frequently overdone. Sauces tend to mask the natural flavor of the vegetables. Instead, save the liquid in which the vegetable is cooked, boil it down slowly until reduced to less than half the original quantity, then season it with salt and pepper, add butter and cream, and serve over the vegetables in a moderate oven. The top should be crisp and brown.

Fluffed Potatoes
Boil and rice eight medium potatoes. Add on and one-half cups milk. Pour over a rich béchamel sauce mixture and bake in a hot oven until brown and done. Turn out onto a hot platter, dot liberally with butter and serve with a rich brown mushroom gravy. The men will enjoy this one.

Vegetable Cake
We hear of upside-down dessert cakes, why not a vegetable upside-down cake for an entrée? Cook and season your favorite combination of vegetables and arrange in attractive patterns in a baking dish. Pour over a rich béchamel sauce mixture and bake in a hot oven until brown and done. Turn out onto a hot platter, dot liberally with butter and serve with a rich brown mushroom gravy. The men will enjoy this one.

Molded Cheese Soufflé
Grease individual ramekins with butter and place a teaspoon of cheese in each dish. Make an omelet mixture of two eggs, one cup cream sauce, one-half teaspoon salt, a pinch of pepper and Cayenne and a little paprika. Pour over the cheese in the cups. Place dishes in a pan containing hot water and bake in a moderate oven until done. Butter crisp rounds of toast and pour over a small amount of cream sauce. Unmold one of the little soufflés onto each toast round. Garnish with a strip of pimiento and a sprig of parsley. This will make three servings.

Peas with Lettuce
Boil your peas in a little salted water until tender. Meanwhile, wash and trim the lettuce leaves and cut them into very thin strips. Add two or three lettuce leaves to the peas in a skillet without browning and tender.

Peas with Lettuce
Boil your peas in a little salted water until tender. Meanwhile, wash and trim the lettuce leaves and cut them into very thin strips. Add two or three lettuce leaves to the peas in a skillet without browning and tender.

Peas with Lettuce
Boil your peas in a little salted water until tender. Meanwhile, wash and trim the lettuce leaves and cut them into very thin strips. Add two or three lettuce leaves to the peas in a skillet without browning and tender.

Short Cuts

Do you know that three teaspoons equal one tablespoon? That sixteen tablespoons equal one cup?

Flour should be kept in a tightly closed container, especially during warm weather when it is most apt to attract insects.

Iron rust stains, unless they are bad, may be removed by repeated applications of salt and lemon juice. Leave article in sun between applications.

Those small steel wool pads with soap encased are excellent for scouring pots and pans.

Children's Quarrels
Mrs. Goward's latest pamphlet, "Children's Quarrels," may be obtained free of charge by writing to her care of this paper and enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

OLD IDEA, NEWLY DONE

An old-fashioned skylight is used in this bedroom to lighten the walls. Colors are green and white in glossy finish. With furniture and green figured crash for lounging chair and bedspread carry out the scheme.

MODES AND MANNERS

QUESTION: "When should a bride-to-be acknowledge wedding gifts? I have been told that no one expects a bride to do so until after the ceremony. Would an engraved card of thanks be in order?"—C.G."

ANSWER: An engraved card of thanks for any courtesy is to return kindness with rudeness. The least the recipient of a gift can do is to extend herself to the point of sitting down and writing a personal note of thanks on personal stationery. The best course to pursue in acknowledging wedding gifts is to try to acknowledge all gifts immediately, while one is still awed or charmed or enthusiastic over them. In this way a little of the pleasure you feel is bound to creep into your letter and delight the donor.

You and Your Child

FOOD DAWDLING CHILDREN NEED REAL INCENTIVE

By JANE HERBERT GOWARD

LIFE for Elaine's mother is a steady round of meals. But the planning of menus, the shopping and the preparation of food are the least of her worries. She happens to be the mother of a four-year-old dawdler, a child who takes interminably long to eat.

Every mealtime is the same old story. Mother goes through her song-and-dance routine with the mechanical accuracy of a seasoned trouper. At first there is the fixed smile and sweet, cajoling manner. This gradually tapers off into firm insistence. The child, who knows her part equally well, takes on a little defiance at about this point, but no speed. More than once it has taken Elaine two hours to get through a meal.

And, naturally, by the end of any mealtime, mother's patience is completely gone.

Why does Elaine dawdle? You cannot blame the child's appetite, because eventually she polishes off everything which has been set before her. Most children are slow at eating and have to be hurried. Some take half an hour, others nearly an hour. Few small children can do it in less than twenty-five minutes. But Elaine deliberately tries to drag out the meal session, if we are to judge by the extra long time which she takes to eat.

But why? The immediate assumption is that she must find some satisfaction in the arrangement. She may like the attention, the excitement. Force of habit will also be taken into account. Then, when all is said and done, what incentive has Elaine for hurrying? What has she to look forward to after the meal is over?

Perhaps she knows that mother is planning to go out and leave her with a neighbor, as soon as dinner is over? Or she may be aware that nap-time follows this year and all of the course of events. Her dawdling is to prolong the present. A wise mother, therefore, will hurry her child to something pleasant. "I'll have one to read you a story, if you hurry dear." Or, "As soon as you've eaten, you may ride your bicycle." And never for the sake of hurrying alone.

Children's Quarrels
Mrs. Goward's latest pamphlet, "Children's Quarrels," may be obtained free of charge by writing to her care of this paper and enclosing a stamped self-addressed envelope.

OLD IDEA, NEWLY DONE

An old-fashioned skylight is used in this bedroom to lighten the walls. Colors are green and white in glossy finish. With furniture and green figured crash for lounging chair and bedspread carry out the scheme.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

Two Cases of "Sister Trouble" Which Show How Relations Often Take Unfair Advantage

SISTER-TROUBLES beset us today. Sisters do get under the skin, apparently, and show different scores. There is no reason why a sister should be permitted to ride roughshod over one's feelings or pry into private affairs. Here are two women who are being set upon and abused because of family ties. It is monstrously unjust.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

MODERN WOMEN

By MARIAN MAYS MARTIN

Two Cases of "Sister Trouble" Which Show How Relations Often Take Unfair Advantage

SISTER-TROUBLES beset us today. Sisters do get under the skin, apparently, and show different scores. There is no reason why a sister should be permitted to ride roughshod over one's feelings or pry into private affairs. Here are two women who are being set upon and abused because of family ties. It is monstrously unjust.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear Mrs. Martin: I am a widow, a recent widow, and am at present living in my own home and have a younger sister with me. She is very rude to me and ungrateful for all that has been done for her. She has been, and is, supported by me and seems to take it for granted that I will continue to provide a home for her and supply her with pocket money and clothes. She is very dominating, and has always been in hot water with the family. My husband did not want her with us, and often told me that if he were gone he did not want me to continue living with her, but how can I turn her out? I cannot be alone, and while we are not congenial, I suppose it is better to have her stay on despite my late husband's wishes. What do you think I should do? Mrs. L. V. B.

Dear

PROGRESS OF PLANE TOLD BY REPORTS

(Continued From Page 1)

SIX ON BOARD
Aboard was a crew of six men headed by Captain Edwin C. Musick, as the "flying boat" headed out over the Golden Gate on the first of a series of flights intended to blaze the trail for a California-to-China air mail and passenger service.

The heavy craft took a run of some 1,700 yards, leaving a frothing wake of white, then headed into the air after 30 seconds. The take-off was achieved with perfect smoothness.

Approximately 7,500 persons cheered as the ship lifted into the air.

The plane will land at Kaneohe Bay, opposite Honolulu, where a permanent base for the service now is being installed.

FLIES TO SEA

Striking toward the low-lying afternoon sun, the plane gained altitude rapidly, and was flying at a height of approximately 1,000 feet as it soared out to sea.

Largest plane ever to attempt the long overwater hop to Honolulu, the Clipper carried some 10,000 pieces of air mail, first ever to be sent to Hawaii. Hundreds of post and stamp collectors had placed "covers" aboard the plane in its inaugural flight over the first leg of the 8,500 mile trans-Pacific route.

WEATHER IS GOOD

Weather forecasts indicated that aside from a low-lying bank of clouds off the California coast, conditions were ideal for the flight. Captain Musick and his crew intended to fly over the cloud bank. Bright spring sunshine glistened on the gray ship as it churned through the water at the takeoff. At 1:30 p. m. the huge mail consignment, weighing approximately five tons, was placed in the "flying boat."

CREW MEMBERS

Members of the crew, in addition to Musick, were R. O. D. Sullivan, first assistant to Musick and pilot; P. J. Noonan, navigator; W. Turner Jarboe, Jr., radio engineer; Junior Flight Officer Harry P. Cannaday and Engineer Officer V. A. Wright. Ample rations were provided for the men, who ate dinner before the take-off and planned to breakfast in Honolulu tomorrow. Soup, meat, potatoes, green peas, coffee, fruit, and chocolate bars were to form their meals in the interim. The first articles were in self-heating cans.

18-HOUR TRIP

An estimated 18 hours will be required for the trip, with the plane cruising at 150 to 175 miles an hour.

Pay Cash
FOR THAT NEW CAR
Automobile Finance Department
Special rates on new Fords
Plymouths... Chevrolets
MECHANICS BANK
RICHMOND

Don't Let Somebody Tell You "They Cost More"

PONTIAC
$839.00 Coupe

BUICK
$1082.00 Coupe
DELIVERED HERE

WASHBURN BROTHERS
ESTABLISHED 1919

TENTH AT BISSELL AVENUE
RICHMOND
Telephone Richmond 27

Complete Automotive Service • Dependable Used Cars

Mussolini Plays Host

THIS PICTURE telephotod from Stresa to London and radioed from London to New York, shows arrival of Premiers Mussolini and Ramsay MacDonald at Stresa, Italy, for the tripartite conference.

Upside Down

PHOTO shows Berardine Lewis King about to take off at Burbank, Cal., airport on unique flight. The young Hollywood aviatrix, made a half-hour upside-down flight without the use of leg straps or shoulder or toe guards.

DAVID M. ROSE, local Ford dealer, and Mrs. Rose have returned from a visit to the East. They made the trip by automobile.

hour. Time will be spent on route in "exploratory" observations, with technicians of the crew checking air currents, reactions of the plane, and radio equipment.

"For four years we have been preparing for trans-Pacific service and our engineers have mapped all available land and water data," Captain Musick said. "Now it's up to us to map the air."

Lodge Notices

All members of No. 354, F. O. E., to be in attendance, Thursday night, April 18. Initiation and nomination of officers.

W. McCHRISTIAN, Secretary, 1-17-35

Legislature Is Criticized For Lack Of Activity

SACRAMENTO, April 16.—UP—A demand for action by Senator W. P. Rich, president pro-tem of the senate, tonight presaged a period of intense activity in the legislature as a means of clearing the calendar of major revenue and budgetary measures.

"We have done nothing of importance," said Senator Rich. "There is a deficit to be met and a budget to be balanced. If it is necessary we must begin to have day and night sessions and carry through Saturdays and Sundays."

Despite the evident need for speed, if the legislature is to adjourn by the last of May, administration leaders again delayed action on important revenue bills but indicated the proposal to increase the bank and corporation franchise tax from two to four per cent would be taken up not later than Thursday.

Meantime both houses devoted today's session to consideration of a series of routine bills.

The Assembly, after an uneventful morning session, became involved in an extended debate over details of a bill designed to control property brokers and prevent the charging of exorbitant interest on small loans.

F. O. E. ATTENTION
All members of F. O. E. No. 354, are requested to be in attendance at the meeting, Thursday night, April 18th. Class initiation and nomination of officers.

W. McCHRISTIAN, Secretary, Apr. 17-18-35

THE BEAUTIFUL WAY

Neither winter storms nor summer heat can effect the tranquility and serenity of Mausoleum burial.

Sunset Mausoleum
NEW TODAY

FOR SALE—SINGER portable sewing machine, $35. Singer treadle, $6.50. White treadle, $6.00. Eureka vacuum cleaner, $16.50. at Baldwin's, 608 Macdonald. 4-17-35

State Rests; Defense For Gosden Says Wife Suicide

(Continued From Page 1)

use Dr. Frederick Proeschner, Lamson prosecution witness, and Dr. Robert Cornish, University of California scientist and dead-dog revolver.

Belli said that he would use their evidence to describe effects of toxic poison and the manner of its entering the blood stream. An attempt will be made to show that Mrs. Gosden was suffering from this condition.

STATE RESTS

The prosecution, before resting its case today, called Miss Ellen Dempsey an insurance company employee to the stand. Miss Dempsey revealed that prior to the Jan. 16, 1928 death of his second wife, Vivian, Gosden inquired of the San Jose office of the Associated Life Insurance Company of California whether a $5,000 policy on his wife was still in force. He was the beneficiary.

The State contends that Gosden also poisoned Vivian through Le has been formally charged only with the murder of Laura.

Ban Placed On Experiments In Lamson Trial

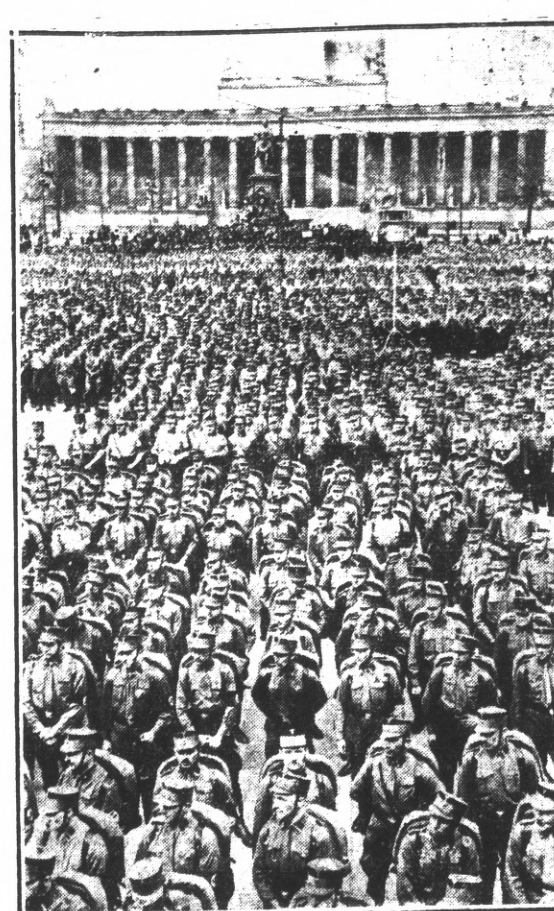

SAN JOSE, April 16.—UP—Defense efforts to transform Judge Robert Syer's courtroom into a chemical laboratory were forestalled today as expert witnesses testified in behalf of David Lamson.

"Are we going to stay here all summer conducting experiments?" Prosecutor Herbert Fitzgerald demanded in objecting to defense offers to conduct before the jury blood reaction tests.

Dr. John B. Dalton, University of California bio-chemist and amateur criminologist had testified for the defense that reliable blood tests had showed to fall any reaction, when applied to bits of cloth taken from a bonfire in the rear of the Lamson cottage.

Dalton said he had obtained evidence lead was on the cloth, some of it characteristic of painting pigments.

Storm Troops

HOW the Nazi Storm Troopers, one of the strongest military units in Germany, looked as they passed in review in Lustgarten Square in Berlin recently.

Klein Funeral To Be Held Here Today

Funeral services for the late Jesse P. Klein, 44, will be held at 1:30 this afternoon from the Wilson and Kratzler chapel. Klein was found dead in his machine on Task Farm Hill on Sunday. He had evidently committed suicide by his having deadly gas fumes from the exhaust of his automobile.

Alpha lodge of Masons will have charge of the rites with Rev. A. A. Pratt officiating. Cremation will be at Berkeley.

Attorneys' Night Is Held By Elks

With Robert Collins acting as chairman, Richmond Lodge of Elks last night held attorney's night. Collins introduced numerous attorneys who are members of the lodge and they told of their experiences before the bar.

Next Tuesday night "an county night" will be held by the lodge with E. L. Kinnaman as chairman of the evening.

Russell Meyer presided last night.

NO ONE IS INJURED IN EXPLOSION

(Continued from Page 1)

plant when the blast went off. By another stroke of luck there were no gasoline and oil drums on the loading platform. If there had been it is believed that the blast would have touched off the gasoline and oil, causing a conflagration. All oils and motor fuels were stored in the building a few feet from the center of the blast.

BLAME STRIKERS

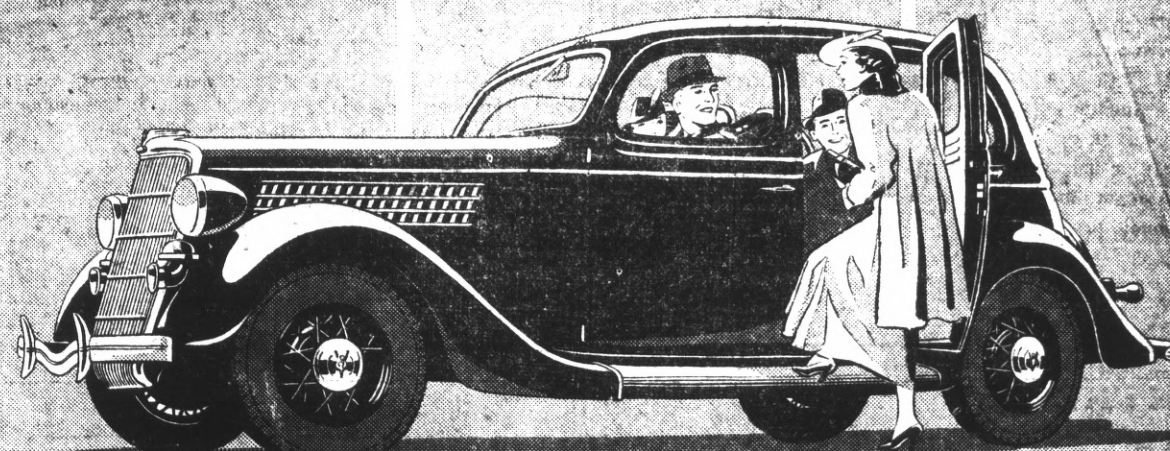

Authorities investigating the mysterious explosion refused to comment but it was believed in some quarters that the blast might have been perpetrated by striking seamen who walked off oil tankers along the Pacific Coast more than a month ago.

The Standard Oil company, while not directly involved in the strike, inasmuch as it operates its tankers with members of a so-called "company union" has been blamed by strike spokesmen for conditions which assertedly caused the walkout.

At Portland, Ore., yesterday a Standard Oil service station there was allegedly bombed by striking seamen, who also wrecked a restaurant patronized by union men. Two men were arrested in the case.

CHARLES ROARCK, 921 Seventh street, is recovering from a major operation performed at a local hospital.

GET EVERYTHING when you buy a Car this year

V-8 POWER
With the introduction of the V-8 engine, Ford brought a new standard of performance to the low-priced field.

COMFORT ZONE RIDING
Gives the ease, smoothness and comfort of a "front seat ride" even to passengers in the back seat—an important engineering advance.

FORD ECONOMY
This new V-8 is the most economical car to operate Ford has ever built.

YOU have heard a lot about the new Comfort Zone Ride of the Ford V-8 for 1935.

It took a major engineering development—the Full-floating Springbase with Comfort Zone Seating—to make an automobile that gives every passenger the comfort of "a front seat ride."

But remember this. You get a lot more than new riding ease in the new Ford V-8. This is a car of major developments throughout.

Here is the 85 h.p. Ford V-8 engine—already proved by more than a million users to be the most dependable and powerful engine Ford ever built.

Here is the economy for which Ford has been known for 31 years. You get low first cost—plus the greatest operating economy in Ford history.

The 1935 Ford V-8 gives you new roominess. It gives you beauty in the finest sense of the word. It gives you new, easy-operating brakes and clutch. You get safety glass all around at no extra cost.

Name what you would want if price were no consideration. Then see the new Ford V-8. You will agree—it has everything you need in an automobile today.

AUTHORIZED FORD DEALERS

Easy terms through Universal Credit Co., the Authorized Ford Finance Plan.

THE NEW FORD V-8

ON THE AIR—FORD SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA, SUNDAY EVENINGS—FRED WARING, THURSDAY EVENINGS—COLUMBIA NETWORK